

Whats On In Mallorca

Whether you have already made up your mind about living in Mallorca or you are just trying to get the idea of how life would be over here then let us share this with you.

Mallorca is an Island of culture, cuisine, fiestas and many great attractions.

Everyday there is something happening, a local market here, an exhibition there it always seems to be something that is being celebrated. Any excuse for some tapas and red wine!

We have found a great guide for you that is updated weekly so you will always know what is on and where every week. You can find it here Weekly Guide

This guide covers cultural shows, exhibitions and various fiesta celebrations through the current season. If you are looking for the English version once the guide is open scroll down to page 22. You can find the guide here Cultural Guide

Let's be honest, what many people come to Mallorca for is the weather and the beaches, so when you are cultured out and you can fiesta no more then here is a Beach Guide for you.

Whatever entertainment you choose, however you spend you day and night. There is something for everyone here in Mallorca and wont it just be amazing to know that when your day is done then you will be returning to your own home, your own piece of the Mediterranean Island of dreams, that is Mallorca.
